Competition Bonus Points are based on car counts. Each competitor taking the green flag in the main event will be awarded one (1) bonus point per car that starts the main event. Note: Competition Bonus Points are only awarded if the feature event is contested, if for any reason the main event is not contested, Competition Bonus Points will not be awarded. Competition Bonus Points (example): If 18 cars start the feature event; each driver will receive 18 Competition Bonus Points added to their regular championship points earned for the night. A maximum of 24 Competition Bonus Points will be awarded for any one night. The accumulation method follows the same points-earning method as ULMA's already in place "15 best" nights method. For example, a driver finishes 5th in the night's feature event in which 18 cars started the main event; the total accumulated points earned for the night would be 111. Points were accumulated in this example by the driver earning 92 points for finishing 5th in the main event, one (1) participation point for starting the main event, plus an additional 18 points earned from Competition Bonus Points from cars that started the main event.

Participation Points are accumulated by the total number of nights a driver earned ULMA points using the above methodology. One (1) single point will be awarded for every feature race start during the points-earning season. Example: if a driver has 19 feature race starts for the year, he/she will be awarded 19 participation points for their race participation throughout the designated season. Points will be accumulated throughout the year with the final standings reflecting total Participation Points awarded. When reviewing the standings during the race season, the number of starts listed added to the listed point standings will reflect the total ULMA championship point standings.

The "15 best" points-earning night methodology remains in play for total points accumulation.
